

CENTER FOR HOMELAND DEFENSE AND SECURITY

ABOUT CHDS

The Center for Homeland Defense and Security (CHDS) was established in 2002 by the U.S. government to build a national cadre of homeland security leaders with advanced skills in organizational collaboration and innovative policy and strategy development. This one-of-a-kind educational forum brings together local, state, tribal, territorial, federal, and private sector leaders to learn, debate, and solve homeland security challenges while bridging gaps in interagency and intergovernmental cooperation. In addition to its academic programs, CHDS provides homeland security professionals with research, digital library holdings, online courses, educational materials, networking, and resources to do their jobs and further their knowledge.

MA | MASTER'S DEGREE PROGRAM

- This accredited 18-month program brings together officials from across the U.S. and all levels of government to critically think about homeland security (HS) issues and research solutions.
- Through rigorous inquiry, participants develop skills necessary to create innovative policies and strategies to protect the U.S. from a wide range of threats and public safety risks.
- Participants are in-residence two weeks per quarter; remainder of coursework is completed via network-based learning.
- Approximately 160 students from diverse disciplines are enrolled in concurrent cohorts—law enforcement, fire, emergency management, public health, military, etc. In-residence classes are held in Monterey, California.
- Participants complete a thesis on actual policy issues confronting their city, state, or sponsoring organization; these are implemented by agencies around the nation to solve HS challenges.

SINCE INCEPTION JANUARY 2003

ELP | EXECUTIVE LEADERS PROGRAM

- Four, one-week seminars over 12 months for senior-level public and private sector officials.
- Two cohorts are conducted each year with over 60 participants graduating annually.
- An educational forum for senior-level homeland security/public safety leaders designed to enhance decision-making and foster collaboration to strengthen the security of the U.S.

SINCE INCEPTION AUGUST 2006
TOTAL COHORTS 33 • ALUMNI 948

EMERGENCY PROGRAM

- Six-month program with two, one-week in-residences in Monterey, CA, and network-based learning that brings together the variety of professional backgrounds and geographic areas that comprise HS.
- Participants spend 3-5 hours per week on the network-based learning portion of Emergence which includes readings, discussion boards, research and ideation around the change initiatives, and other activities.
- Program enhances the next generation of HS leaders' critical and design thinking, understanding of the HS discipline, emerging trends, and their commitment to an HS career.
- A significant part of Emergence is an innovation lab to research and develop ideas for change that participants brief to their agency leadership and implement to solve organizational challenges.

EED | EXECUTIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM

- The Executive Education Program (EED) provides a wide range of tailored homeland security educational opportunities designed to help strengthen U.S. capability to prevent, deter, prepare for, respond to, and recover from terrorist attacks, natural disasters, and public safety threats and to build the intergovernmental, interagency, and civil-military cooperation that homeland security requires.
- The academic program offerings are conducted around the country by CHDS mobile education teams comprised of nationally-recognized experts from a variety of fields related to homeland security.
- The CHDS teams work with requesting government agencies and associations to customize educational content and structure to meet participant needs and objectives.
- The curriculum may cover a wide range of homeland security issues important to leaders and decision-makers or be designed to explore a single challenge in-depth.
- Sessions are flexible and may range from a couple of hours to several days in duration and can be delivered in the form of a seminar, symposium, workshop, presentation, or short course at local venues.
